Southeast Asia: The Heart of Global Logistics

Southeast Asia’s strategic geographic location and its role as a hub for global trade make it an essential market for the logistics and air cargo sectors. The region’s rapid economic growth and expanding consumer base offer a wealth of opportunities for industry players.

“Our debut at the trade fair was a resounding success, forging new partnerships and opening doors to potential business opportunities. We’re eagerly looking forward to the next edition,” expressed Gianluca Marcangelo, Head of Industry Relations and Marketing, Challenge Group.

Innovation Features of the Event:

Future Logistics Zone: The showcase of the latest advancements in logistics, featuring state-of-the-art equipment, autonomous vehicles, drones, smart warehousing, including prototypes and models that set to revolutionize logistics and air cargo industry.

Innovation Hub: The platform for cutting-edge innovations, presenting AI, IoT, blockchain, robotics, and renewable energy solutions that are reshaping the logistics landscape.

“transport logistic SEA and air cargo SEA have proven to be an exceptional platform for expanding our network and establishing a foothold in the Southeast Asia region. It’s not just a local hub; it’s where the global logistics community converges.” highlighted Theresa Groninger, Head of Sales & Marketing, Cellumation GmbH.

Singapore: The Ideal Locale

Singapore’s reputation as a global logistics hub is further solidified by the world-class facilities at the Sands Expo & Convention Centre. The city-state’s dedication to innovation and sustainability perfectly complements the event’s ambition, promising an unforgettable and transformative experience for all participants.

“We anticipate the 2025 edition to be even more impactful, with increased participation and groundbreaking innovations that will set new benchmarks in the industry. Our focus on sustainability, resilience, and innovation will address today’s global challenges and drive the future of logistics and air cargo,” stated by Michael Wilton, CEO & Managing Director, MMI Asia Pte Ltd.
